GEN. MILES ADDRESSES WESTERN HIGH SCHOOL

Winners of Scholarships Are Announced at the Annual Flag Day Exercises.

That they should get from their school those things which would fit them for lives of peace and happiness, but which should also make them ready for any contingency which might arise, was the advice of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, in an address to students of Western High School today.

Gen. Miles' address was delivered in conjunction with flag day exercises, which it was found more expedient to hold at Western today rather than next week.

While the student body sang "The Union Jack," the sergeant of Company H brought in the American flag, which was later saluted. Col. A. S. Perham, president of the department of the Potomac, G. A. R., spoke on allegiance to the flag.

Miss Ellen Thomas, director of girls' athletics, introduced Miss Carolyn Smith, who presented "W" to members of the senior class team of the interclass matches. Those receiving the trophies were Misses Maria Eiselet, Margaret Bristow, Helen Cummings, Irene Daniel, Harriet Miller and Margaret Mitchell.

Tennis "W" were awarded to Miss Elizabeth Stetson, in the singles, and to the doubles to Miss Stetson and Miss Clara Elliott.

Bryan Morse, director of boys' athletics, presented the Spaulding trophy to the team as the champion in the interschool matches. The boys receiving "W" were Robert Raymond, Peck Peine, John Wheelwright, Stuart Smith, Richard Sergeant, Harry Chamberlain and Russell Whyte, manager. Lawrence Grayson and Tom Eagan were awarded "W" for their track work.

RIISING IN HOUSE GALLERY, TRIES TO MAKE A SPEECH

Bayes N. Westcott undertakes to Address National Solons, and Is Squelched.

Bayes N. Westcott of New York, rising in the gallery, attempted to address the House today on the subject of the secret service. He claims that he has been shadowed by the operatives of the government secret service and that his reputation has suffered in consequence.

Before he could get well under way with his harangue, however, two employees of the House collared Mr. Westcott and rushed him out of the gallery and down to the guard room. Later he was taken to the city police station for observation.

He explained that he had come to the Capitol to see Representative Conroy of New York, hoping to get him to intercede in his behalf. Finding that Mr. Conroy was away on account of illness, Mr. Westcott undertook to address the House himself, believing, he said, that he had a constitutional right to do so.

He had with him a letter which he had written to Mr. Conroy, and this letter he attempted to read in part to the House during his brief moment in the spotlight. His New York address was given as the Hudson terminal building. In the letter he stated that he was an American, born in Philadelphia, but now a resident of New York.

TALKS ON MUSIC TEACHING.

Mrs. Effa Ellis-Perfield of Chicago Delivers Lecture.

Mrs. Effa Ellis-Perfield of Chicago gave a lecture on the teaching of music at the New Willard Hotel yesterday afternoon. She declared that the two worst things in the educational world today are "copying and leading on thoughtlessly."

"We continue to do things because we always have done them," she said. "Each person must have individual feeling, and it is this inner feeling that we lack in all lines of education today."

She said that feeling without reasoning, however, is most dangerous.
